

Assembling Folding Space-Station Interior "D"

Half-Modules

This "interior" is a little different from the others. It consists of two half-sized interiors. These mini-areas can be placed next to any other space-station module where you want a matter-transporter device or some extra storage space. They can also be used back-to-back as one normal-sized interior if you so desire.

Print two copies of FSD_3 (short wall sections) and FSD_0 (outer walls), and one copy of each of the other pages. Assemble the walls and floor just like any of the other space-station interiors, except that the floor is in two sections.

The top module's long walls are glued down in a staggered pattern; the bottom module's walls are laid out square and regular. Use one of each of the two types of short walls to finish each module. It looks like this when done:

```
#####
+ + #
-|-+|--#    "+" signs are doors
| | #       "@" are teleport grids
#@s| | #      "s" are small control panels
#--|+--| - #
+ + #
#####
```

```
#####
+ + #
#+|+---|+#
| @s| #
| | #
#+|---+|+#
+ + #
#####
```

The outer walls for this module won't work with any other interior, since they're shortened to fit these half-sized interiors. Other interiors' outer walls won't work with these interiors for the same reason, unless you put both half-modules together.
